

ATTACK OF THE DRONES

A discussion about the ethical, legal and strategic aspects of UAV use

Tues, Nov 13, 2012

6:30p - 8:00p

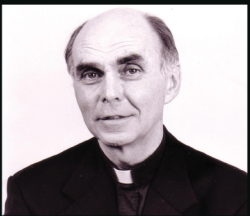

Kirsch Auditorium, Bldg 32-123
32 Vassar Street, Cambridge

BARRY POSEN is Ford International Professor of Political Science at MIT and Director of the MIT Security Studies Program. His current research interests include U.S. national security policy, the organization and employment of military force, and great power intervention into civil conflicts.

RABIA MEHMOOD is a Lahore based multimedia reporter for The Express Tribune, an English language daily in Pakistan. A former broadcast reporter with a TV network, she has reported on religious minorities, proscribed militant organization, urban terrorism and its impact on survivors extensively. She was a 2010-2011 Neuffer Fellow at MIT CIS.

BRYAN HEHIR is Professor of the Practice of Religion and Public Life at the Harvard Kennedy School of Government and former acting Dean of the Harvard Divinity School. His research and writing focus on ethics and foreign policy and the role of religion in world politics and in American society.

KENNETH OYE is Director of the MIT Program on Emerging Technologies and holds a joint appointment as Associate Professor in Political Science and Engineering Systems. His current research centers on the adaptive management of risks associated with emerging technologies.

STARR FORUM

MIT Center for International Studies & The Technology and Culture Forum at MIT
starrforum@mit.edu | Free & open to all